INDEPENDENCE DAY

July 4, 1776

July 4, 1969

EDITORIAL

What and where is Carmel Valley? A good question.

We raise the question elsewhere in the paper today as to what and where is Carmel Valley.

This may be an academic question insofar as those who live here or near here are concerned.

It's not so simple for those who don't and for those who may come here for a visit. And actually, in our story in the Resort Supplement, we don't give a fully satisfying answer.

For the fact of the matter is that "Carmel Valley" is not a simple place to describe.

As you turn off Highway 1 near Carmel, you are told that you are entering Carmel Valley.

This is true. Carmel Valley as a geographical entity extends all the way from the ocean easterly some 20 miles before it fades into the Santa Lucia Mountains.

All well and good.

Is this all there is, then, to Carmel Valley?

Not quite.

There is also the Carmel Valley post office, located in the Village area, some 12 miles from the mouth of the Valley. And there is also the Carmel Valley telephone exchange, also centered in the Village area.

But neither serve the entire Valley. In fact both serve only the easterly end of the Valley. And the rest of the Valley – about 8 miles of it from the Carmel end – has both a Carmel postal address and is part of the Carmel telephone exchange as well.

In fact, both of these services include the Mid-Valley Shopping Center area and even extend a mile or so east of there.

What this means is that about two-thirds of the Valley that is generally considered the populated area is identified with Carmel because of the existing postal and phone identification.

This is too bad.

Partly, of course, it is due to the fact that none of Carmel Valley is incorporated, and partly due to the fact that the Village area was the original population center (and still is).

But over the years development has extended far beyond the Village area, and in the years to come, no doubt will be even more concentrated in the vast open but highly desirable parts of the Valley closer to the ocean.

Before this occurs, we hope that both the post office and the phone company, in their great wisdom, will provide a Carmel Valley address and a Carmel Valley telephone number for everyone from the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center on up.

It will avoid endless confusion, give the Valley greater homogeneity, and "tell it the way it is".

That can't be too bad.

PERSPECTIVE

TO THE EDITOR

Department of Agriculture

Washington, D.C.

Attn: Organic Gardening Minded People
Dear Sirs:

HELP!!!

We are being over-run and our garden (and any future garden) is slowly being destroyed by the villain of the insect world:

The Earwig

These dastardly creatures:

- snip tender young plants off right at ground level and leave the evidence of their destruction otherwise untouched (if they ate what they destroyed, I might have more positive feelings toward them).
- with the coming of spring they, like everything else in the life cycle, begin to multiply (the by-sexual earwig lays eggs that number in the thousands each time). As the crop matures, the earwig moves up the stalk and finally destroys the heart of the plant; meaning full maturation is impossible. This is most evident in corn crops. The earwigs nest in and around the roots, move into the corn silk, and finally end up in what kernels did manage to pollinate.
- live under, or in, anything anywhere. Moist – damp – dark. This description fits an incredibly vast amount of things. Rocks, wood, laundry hanging on the line, anything with the smallest crack (gardening tools, housing foundations, etc.). This list could be infinitesimal.
- they eat paper and cloth – which means they are in our home and I must admit it's quite unpleasurable living with them.

Now that you have some idea of the destruction that's being done, I must also add that we've tried every conceivable method of organic disposal of these pests.

Seemingly, the only natural predator is the spider and there certainly aren't enough of them to stop the millions of earwigs in Monterey County alone.

Since these insects came to this country not twenty years ago (have heard and read information about them being from Egypt – if this is so, what is the natural predator there and what do they do to control the massive amount of damage?) I feel something should be done about this problem as soon as possible.

The delicacy with which this must be handled is very important to the natural "food chain" and to the earth. Pesticides may endanger the future of any farmer, large or small.*

Please take the time to look into this situation, as in ten years it may be too late.

Your help is desperately needed and any information, in the meantime, would be extremely appreciated.

A concerned human being,

Do you remember . . . . .

EIGHT YEARS AGO:

Sheriff's deputy Bill Neidinger was more than mildly surprised when he spotted a black bear in upper Carmel Valley. The bear, estimated to weigh between 300 and 400 pounds, lumbered onto the road about 70 feet from Neidinger's car as he drove near Anastasia Canyon.

FOUR YEARS AGO:

No damage resulted from a grass fire under the Rhodes Bridge. A cigarette was thought to have caused the blaze which was controlled by members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department.

Mrs. William Stowers was installed as the new president of the Carmel Valley Lionettes at a cocktail party attended by 48.

LAST YEAR:

Six-year old Tricia Klump, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Klump, and Kathy Dresser, age 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Dresser of Monterey were among 17 children selected out of 300 who audition to appear with Moscow's Bolshoi Ballet when it appeared in San Francisco.

With the advent of hot weather, a number of people have been leaving windows open or having patio parties to the consternation of their neighbors. Five loud parties were reported to the sheriff's office by this time last year.

Chain link fence in Carmel Valley turned down by Planners

A chain link fence may be a practical, permanent enclosure for private property, but its esthetic appeal has a very low quotient.

At least in Carmel Valley.

A controversy over such a fence came up for review before the Monterey County Planning Commission last week, and that body upheld a decision by the Carmel Valley Advisory Board (upper).

The fence involved is about a thousand feet on the north side of Carmel Valley Road, a couple miles east of the Village.

The new owner of the property once well-known as Rancho Carmelo put up the fence earlier this year.

It quickly came to the attention of the Advisory Board, which ruled that the fence did not conform to the Design standards for the Valley, which by county ordinance is a judgment matter.

The Advisory Board advised the Quinn Company of Salinas, owners of the property, that the fence on the north side of the road would have to come down, and that the fence on the south side of the road would have to be properly landscaped to conceal it.

The Planning Commission upheld this decision. It advised the Quinn Company that it would have to tear down the fence, move it several feet further from the road, and then landscape it so that the natural beauty of the road would remain intact.

Chairman Edward Marcucci of Carmel Valley said that the commission has rarely made such a decision, but that it was high time that it did.

The Quinn Company now has the option of accepting the decision or appealing it to the County Board of Supervisors.

OTHER DECISIONS

The commission acted favorably on the following requests for design approvals:

Two signs for the Golden Hearth Bakery.

Ballet studio for Patricia Wester.

Single family dwelling for J.W.H. von Saltze.

Dwelling alteration for Nick Henares.

Fence for James G. Heisinger.

CARMEL VIEWS

The tentative map for a 165-acre addition to the Carmel Views subdivision was approved. Proposed is a 130-lot development to this area, near the mouth of the Valley

The commission approved a house numbering system for the entire unincorporated area near Carmel, and its extention to the rest of the area served by the Carmel Post Office, which includes rural routes reaching about 7 miles up Carmel Valley.

It also adopted a resolution of intention to zone an area south of Hitchcock and Southbank Roads above Robles del Rio in Carmel Valley for minimum lot sizes of 2-1/2 acres.

'Sweet Charity' with Akemi Ito very well received

While "Sweet Charity" tells a story of a forlorn dance-hall hostess, it is mostly a package of bright and splashy musical numbers, with something for just about everyone.

It opened last week at the Circle Theatre in Carmel and will be around entertaining audiences until the end of next month.

As Charity, who would just as soon give her love away as sell it, Akemi Ito binds up this frothy little musical tale with considerable competence.

Shapely, attractive and petite, as Charity she dances, sings and loses all her lovers because she has too much love to give. So she becomes Charity, a quality unknown to the other brassy dime-a-dance (related services much higher) hostesses.

Zelma Weinfield directed the musical, a smash hit on Broadway since it is the creation of Neil Simon, playwright, and Cy Coleman, composer, and Dorothy Fields, lyricist. It gets off to a rather slow first act, but picks up a lot of momentum in the closing scenes.

Much of the credit for this must go to Mark Oman. He plays Oscar, a bashful giddy intellectual, who gets hung up in a elevator with Charity, and is soon hung up on Charity.

This lasts until he finds out that Charity not only is the sweetest, nicest girl he ever knew, but also a member in good standing of the oldest profession. This is too much even for Oscar, starved as he is for true love and understanding; he is honest enough to tell her that he would destroy the Sweet Charity because he would always hate the Franks, Charlies, Bills, Tommies, and countless others who had also enjoyed Charity's charity.

The musical had many highlights.

Dale Diggs as Daddy Brubeck led an incandescent "Hair" -type production number, "Rhythm of Life".

The popular "If My Friends Could See Me Now" was well put together by Miss Ito and Robert Heater, who as Vidal added sophistication to the production.

Bonnie Rae Dowd, an Idaho beauty queen, is a newcomer who not only is a stunner, but her duet with Linda Zimmerman ("Baby Dream Your Dreams") was probably the vocal highlight of the evening. They also have some of the sharpest lines in the play, blue and otherwise, and deliver them unblemished.

Then there was Herman, played by Tim Gleeson. As the manager of the House of Pleasure, Gleeson rather perfectly captured the tough-taling but soft-hearted bum whose only exposure is to life at its rawest.

Considering the small quarters at the Circle, the dancing was exciting and colorful, and the costumes easy to look at.

Summer audiences can't help but enjoy this Circle production. And sweet little Akemi Ito will get plenty of affection from the many crowds she entertains, short-changed as she is by her stage lovers. GMD

Rodeo to salute Old Monterey Bi-centennial

The California Rodeo at Salinas, July 17 through 20, will salute the approaching Old Monterey Bi-centenial celebration with special features reminiscent of the early history of the region and the state.

These will include a colorful pageant of the nine flags which have flown over the state as part of the opening ceremonies of the rodeo which will get underway each day at 1:30 o'clock.

There will also be a seldom seen hide race which will recall the days when hides and tallow were the leading exports of the area and hides were used as a medium of monetary transactions.

In addition, at the Saturday and Sunday performances there will be special appearances of Las Charras de Escaramuza, an internationally famous girls' drill team from Mexico.

Completing the program on the track will be the unique Roman Riding over jumps of Elaine Kramer, trick riders, barrel racers, thoroughbred races.

'Secret Life of Walter Mitty' coming to Carmel

At the Circle Theatre, Carmel, on Friday, July 11th, the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula will open a new musical entitled "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty", by Joe Manchester, Leon Carr, Earl Shuman, and based on the classic story by James Thurber.

Walter Mitty is a wistful little man, creating elaborate fantasies in which he is always the hero. Although Thurber's story takes place in Connecticut, Mitty is a universal character in whom we all recognize something of ourselves. He has become a legend. Mitty, escaping in daydreams from the straitjacket of reality, finds that life's only triumphs come in "The Secret Life".

To the rapid-fire shouted orders of his wife, Agnes, to hurry, Walter Mitty, just turning forty, prepares to face another day. As he shaves, he imagines himself before a firing squad, elegantly scorning the traditional blindfold and last cigarette. In his mind he escapes in a rocket where Mitty the Great Space Scientist repairs a clogged fuel line. His dream of glory dissolves as Agnes complains that he hever does anything to get ahead in his job.

In "Drip Drop Tapoketa", he suddenly imagines himself as the famous Dr. Mitty saving his boss' life with a miracle of surgical skills, only to be recalled to the all too real world of Agnes' jealous suspicions of his mumblings and daydreaming.

At Harry's Bar, his only refuge from the burdens of the world, Mitty falls into conversation with a tippling nightclub singer, Willa de Wisp. Having decided to help Willa with her career, Mitty imagines himself a great impresario with Willa as the star of the Folies de Mitty, doing a torrid nightclub solo for him, an hilarious caricature of a French chanteuse.

Agnes unexpectedly appears at the bar and proceeds to berate and humiliate her husband for his drinking and his intended relationship with Willa. Finally daring to put his dreams into action, Mitty tells Agnes he is leaving her, but as he is about to sign papers cashing in his insurance, selling his house and resigning his job, the sight of a fountain pen his adoring daughter Peninnah had given him fills him with shame, and he asks Agnes to take him home.

The next morning, suffering from a hangover, Mitty realizes that Peninnah gives his life meaning and Agnes gives it order and stability. Mitty also realizes that when Agnes' well-intentioned nagging gets too much for him, there's always "The Secret Life".

Roy Baxter is directing and staging "Walter Mitty", and a happy and engaging score of tunes that capture the comedy, the tenderness and the refreshing liveliness of Thurber's most enchanting stories, will be played by Tom Fordham. Dan Cawthon is chorus director.

After its opening on July 11th, "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" will play Wednesdays through Sundays at 8:30, alternating weekly with "Sweet Charity".

Reservations and group discount bookings are now being accepted at the theatre box office by phoning 624-2669.

Studio's 'Ernest in Love' a superb performance

Superb? Brilliant? Polished?

Take your choice – all describe the Studio Theatre's new summer musical, "Ernest in Love".

The moment Nick LeFeuvre, Jr., steps on the stage in the first moments of the first scene, you can't avoid the feeling that something very special is in store.

As Jack Worthing, the central figure in this musical adaptation of Oscar Wilde's rollicking play, "The Importance of Being Earnest", Mr. LeFeuvre brilliantly captures a typical British dandy, in speech, gesture and appearance.

His surely is one of the best performances ever brought off on a Carmel stage.

Too much cannot be said for the direction of Charles Thomas. He has taken a fine cast and with meticulous attention to every detail, made the cleverly contrived creation of Oscar Wilde a memorable evening of theatre.

Every bit of it is professional cailbre – the staging, the acting, the singing, the music, the costumes.

The genius of Oscar Wilde, surely one of the masters of the English language, places a great burden on those who would attempt to recreate his plays. This musical version makes even greater demands on the players. It is intricate and clever, and the nuances of the plot so subtle that only the most daring would even attempt it.

Rod Allison as Algernon Moncrieff is equal to the challenging role of Jack's foil. The ladies are all, as they say now, really "something else" too. Beautiful Suzann Newell plays Gwendolen Fairfax as if she were molded for it. She is Jack's romantic interest, and only Wilde could create so much confusion and so many obstacles to true love and then resolve them all so outrageously easy. Suzann Newell is equal to every occasion, including each of her many songs.

As Cecily, Luann Brown as usual makes her "dumb blonde" role fetching, since it is all a play. She and Algie play the counterpoint to Jack and Gwendolen, and a merry counterpoint it is.

The lesser roles are lesser in name only, for they are all done superbly. Betsi and Edgar Pye, as Miss Prism (Cecily's governess) and Dr. Chasuble (the rector) bring a professional talent to their supporting parts. Marianne Wagner (Effie) and Walter Pezet (Lane), as servants, have contributing parts and their duet "You Can't Make Love" is especially appealing.

Anita Tonn (Lady Bracknell) projects the aristocratic dame with subtlety and authority, and her witty confrontations with Jack over her daughter's hand are handled with convincing finesse.

Praise must by all means go to Robert Ramos for his musical direction and piano accompaniment; both are nothing less than exquisite.

Bob Evans and Bob Evans Jr., are to be congratulated for staging this most enjoyable musical farce. Anyone who misses it will be sorry. It is presented nightly Wednesday through Sunday all of this month and part of next. GMD

Valley Pool starts 'em young

The Carmel Valley Pool at the Community Youth Center on Ford Road has organized a pre-schooler's program for those youngsters ("as young as 3 and as old as 6") in Carmel Valley. This swimming program is different from others in that the Carmel Valley Pool is one of the few pools which will handle this age group.

"Parents are realizing that youngsters need more than bath-tub experience," said Ken White, Pool Director.

It is in this class, at this early age, that the pre-schooler learns security while in the water. It is a water-preparation course teaching key skills to the youngsters enrolled.

A four dollar registration fee for the two-week course may be paid at the Valley Pool. The next class will run from July 7-18 while the class after that meets from July 21-Aug. 1. Both sets of classes begin at 11:30.

Kiwanis Club holds its annual barbecue

An enjoyable evening was spent by the members and guests of the Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club at a barbecue held at the Rippling River Resort last week.

Firefighters called to 2 grass fires

The Carmel Valley Fire Department responded to a mutual aid call on Friday at 11:40 a.m. from the Salinas Rural Fire Department requesting assistance to extinguish a fire on Hidden Hills on Los Laureles Grade. One truck was sent along with a pick-up and five men.

At 2:56 p.m. on Friday, the fire fighters answered a call from the Carmel Valley Inn to put out a grass and brush fire. The fire was presumably caused by misuse of a gopher-bomb, causing an estimated 1/4 acre to be burned off.

Wood named to state assembly committee on conservation

Assemblyman Bob Wood (R-Monterey County) has been appointed to the Assembly Committee on Agriculture and the Committee on Natural Resources and Conservation.

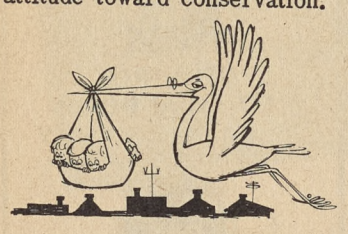
Speaker Robert Monagan stated "because of Assemblyman Wood's great expertise in the field of agriculture and conservation the Assembly today voted unanimously to extend the memberships of both committees so that the appointment could be made."

Assemblyman Wood stated "I am grateful to the members of the Assembly allowing the rules to be changed that I might serve on the two committees of my choice; representing the primary interests of Monterey County."

Speaker Monagan, in making the appointment, praised Wood as "knowledgeable in both fields and capable of making a great contribution to California." Because the Salinas Valley is one of the richest farm areas of the state, Monterey is fortunate to have Assemblyman Wood on the Agriculture Committee. The late Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee was previously chairman of the committee.

Wood, by serving on the Natural Resources and Conservation Committee, will be in a position to protect the great natural beauty which abounds in Monterey County and will also have the opportunity to move forward with sound conservation practices in the years ahead.

Meanwhile, Governor Reagan appointed Ellis P. Tavernettie, a former mayor of King City, as supervisor from the 3rd District, to fill the vacancy caused by Wood's election to the Assembly. His term as supervisor will expire next year. He took office yesterday, and indicated he would follow Wood's policy on the board, including a favorable attitude toward conservation.



The Carmel Valley Outlook welcomes Chandra Selene Sturgill as a new resident of Carmel Valley. Born on June 20, 1969 at the Community Hospital of the Monterey Peninsula she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sturgill, 18 Aliso Road, in Carmel Valley.

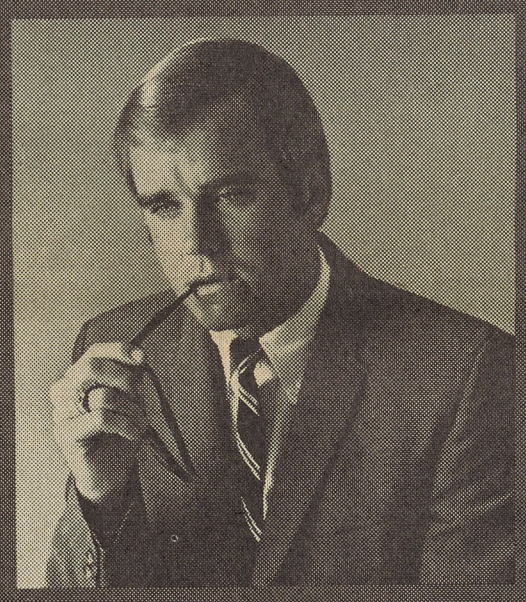
Where's all that money you were going to save?



UCB has a plan that guarantees you'll save

United California Bank
Attention: C. H. Lipson
405 Montgomery Street
San Francisco, Calif. 94104

Dear United California Bank:

Thanks for showing me how I can start saving. Please send me a savings account application. I've got a good reason to save, and I will. No ifs, ands or buts!

Name: _____

Street: _____

City: _____

State: _____ Zip: _____

For all your good intentions, you can't seem to save a nickel to save your soul. Paychecks come. Paychecks go. And still there's little or no money in the bank for savings.

United California Bank knows how hard it is to save. That's why we have a plan that guarantees you'll save $10.—$20.—$30. a month or more, and hardly miss it. It's UCB's Automatic Savings Plan. Just decide how much you want to save each month. UCB deducts that amount from your UCB checking account and adds it to your savings.

Most savers tell us, it's virtually painless. And at UCB, your savings always earn the highest bank interest rate permissible by law.

Isn't there something you've wanted to save for anyway? Like Europe. It's as easy as saving just $2.00 a day for one year at UCB! Whatever your goal, sign this coupon and send it along today. You can save. You will save.

We guarantee it.

WITH THE FORMAL INSTALLATION of officers held June 21 at the Monterey Elks Club, the Carmel Valley Lion's Club celebrated another birthday as they began their sixth year in Lionism.

Installing new officers was International Councellor, Lou Mammini, who also presented badges to 1968-69 and 1969-70 officers. He was introduced by Lion Dick McKenzie, who served as master of ceremonies. Tom Bordonaro is the new president; Charles Gansel, 1st vice president; Phil Wright, 2nd vice president; Mal Tavares, 3rd vice president; William Stowers, secretary; Cliff Bolgard, treasurer; Peter Baxter, Lion Tamer; Sal O'Campo, Tail Twister. Board members include Dick Gayman, Warren Douglas, Art Fosso, John Koon, Maury Nessell, and Don Laird.

A past president's plaque was awarded to retiring president, Lloyd Todd by Clyde Hitchcock. Clyde also presented District Awards which included the Scrapbook Achievement to John Koon, editor; and a certificate of appreciation for the club's participation in the CARE program to Lloyd Todd.

Club membership awards were presented by International Councellor, Tony August of Carmel, whose wife, June, was introduced as an honorary Lionette. Special achievement Club awards of engraved pen sets were presented to Bob Hebert, Phil Wright, Charles Gansel, Tom Bordonaro, and Cliff Bolgard. Attendance awards were presented for perfect attendance for two years to Art Fosso and Nick Skalyo; for three years to Tom Bordonaro and Bob Hebert; for four years to Leroy Dufur, Maury Nessell, Mal Tavares, and Phil Wright; for five years (all of whom are charter members) to Charles Gansel, William Hall, Clyde Hitchcock, Dick McKenzie, William Stowers and Lloyd Todd. Special Achievement for services to the club above and beyond the call of duty were awarded to Nick Skalyo and Mal Tavares.

Past president, Mrs. Clyde Hitchcock was installing officer for the Lionettes, following a presentation of a past president's pin to Mrs. Herman Tedrow. The new Lionette president, Mrs. Lloyd Todd will be assisted by Mrs. Phil Wright, vice president; Mrs. Charles Gansel, secretary; Mrs. Tom Bordonaro, treasurer; and the board of directors.

The handsome floral centerpiece of yellow, white and blue, was presented to Lou Mammini's wife, Rose. Each of the Lion's presented his lady with a carnation corsage. Dancing followed the dinner and ceremonies in the main dining room of the Elk's Club.

NINA VON DRACHENFELS, whose wedding to Charles McKenzie will take place on July 12, was feted with a miscellaneous shower Saturday at the Paso Hondo home of Mrs. Edgar (Louise) Zook. The pretty tea from two until four was planned by Mrs. Tracy Williams, Mrs. Donald Waylett, and Miss Martha Williams, who will be one of Nina's attendants.

The yellow theme of Nina's wedding was carried out in the decor. The tea table was centered with a bouquet of yellow and white flowers and a streamer with the names of the bride and groom to be, "Nina and Chip". Matching bouquets were about the room and the napkins were tied with yellow ribbons. Mrs. Zook and Mrs. Alex von Drachenfels, Nina's mother, poured.

Others attending were Mmes. Wendall Redding, Barbara Haber, Howard Evans, Hamish Tyler, William Betts, and Margaret Mans. Also Miss Aileen Loo, Miss Jean Papka, and Miss Jeanette Smith — all of whom attended college with the guest of honor. Sending gifts but unable to attend were Chip's mother, Mrs. K. Dean Echoles, and his grandmother, both of whom reside in Glendale.

The von Drachenfels family made the Valley their home for many years and now live in Monterey.

FRANCIS F. SIMMONS, a favorite resident of Brookdale Drive and Pancho Way (really only on loan to the State which he serves on a twenty-four hour basis as Captain of the California Highway Patrol) has added still ANOTHER commendation on duty to his already lengthly list. This one, signed by Senator Jack Schade of the California State Senate Rules Committee salutes the remarkable proficiency with which Capt. Simmons and his lawmen controlled the traffic during the funeral of the late Assemblyman Alan Pattee.

The tribute reads: "The Senate Rules Committee members commend Capt. Francis F. Simmons on his dedication and efficiency. The Salinas Patrol impressed members of the Senate with the efficiency and performance under pressure and the outstanding way in which they carried out their most recent assignment of traffic direction at the funeral of Assemblyman Alan Pattee." The latest award is hanging in the Patrol's Salinas office.

INVITATIONS TO BRIDGET HANCPOL'S ninth birthday party instructed guests to wear play clothes and come to a Playday birthday. Although her actual birthday is not until August 14, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hancpol, decided this year to celebrate her special day before vacation trips scattered her classmates.

The girls enjoyed a burger barbecue, a watermelon feed, and birthday cake and ice cream following an afternoon of games. The ride home was a treat for the girls in the back of the cute maroon college camper recently purchased by Bridget's sister, Lindy. Attending were Jill Ricketts, Jane Cranston, Denice Plotty, Dee Dee Zammitt, Barbara Bell, Kathy Toulson, and Bridget's sister, Barna.

SAYING GOODBYES to their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Angle, Jeff and Randy were Diane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cox who enplaned on Thursday for their home in Grinnell, Iowa following an eleven day visit in the Valley. The Angles enjoyed giving their house guests on Paso Cresta a tour of the Peninsula from Comsat where Ron works to a farewell dinner at Rocky Point Restaurant.... toured San Juan Bautista... and even the two fawns that have been frequenting the Village, came out right on schedule when Diane drove her father to the Village to pick up some Monterey Jade to take home before their departure for the airport.

STEVE THIGPEN, manager of the Carmel Valley Little League Farm Team, the Cubs, and his wife, Kay, hosted the boys at a hot dog barbecue and swimming party last Saturday at their home on Rancho Tierre Grande. Miniature gold trophies were presented to three players who had been selected by their teammates; for the best hitter, Mark Gladden, for the best offensive player, Greg Thigpen, and for the best defensive player, Scott Thigpen.

A SWIM AT THE Carmel Valley Racquet Club by Andy Lockwood and his guests made his beautiful birthday cake look all the more appealing when they returned to the Toyon Way home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lockwood for refreshments. Baked by Mrs. Bonnie Anderson, a Cachagua resident noted for her clever cake designs, the cake followed a baseball theme as a tribute to Andy's position on the Kiwani's sponsored Farm Team, the Indians.

ENROLLMENT AT MONTEREY HIGH SCHOOL, always of prime concern to principal Neil Fearn, slipped to a second place interest rating on May 31st, when the enrollment at the Garzas Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Fearn was increased by the arrival of Steven Michael. The baby boy was born at Community Hospital and weighed 9 lbs. 7 oz. Welcoming a new brother are the other Fearn children, Diane and Paul.

THE CARMEL VALLEY CUB SCOUTS learned all about "those daring young men in their flying machines" last week when the Monterey Airport and the Naval Air Facilities hosted them. Led by Cub Master Don Draper, the boys visited the Control Tower, boarded a north bound United jet for an inspection tour where they were presented wings and balloons by the pretty stewardess, and then hiked over to the Navy field where they were given a demonstration of the helicopter's rescue equipment. Other adults accompanying the Cubs were Mrs. Don Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Angle, Mrs. Leo David, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cox.

BOB AND RUTH GETZ have sold their market known for thirteen years as Getz Meats at the Carmel Valley Market to Edmond and Margaret Capon. On July 1st the business name will be changed to Eddie's Meats, but the phone number, the post office box, the quality meat, and the friendly service remain the same. For Bob it is the end of forty-nine years in a trade which began in Pacific Grove in 1920. There he served four generations and continued to commute into town for eight years after they moved to their Robles Del Rio home in the Valley. Although ready to retire from the meat business he is not ready to retire from the business world completely and will continue to greet old friends as a member of the staff of the grocery department.

Ruth is looking forward to their home, garden, her gem and stone hobby, and especially having time for their family. A daughter, Mrs. Ben Lofton and three children are expected soon for a month's visit from their home in Chatanooga, Tenn.

The Capon's have lived in Robles Del Rio for 19 years. Eddie worked with the Getz's four years ago and had his own market at Carmel-Drive-In for ten years.

A Wonderful Spot in the Sun....

Where's beautiful Carmel Valley? Here's where . . .

The difference in climate between the seacoast towns and Carmel Valley is downright incredible – but true, nonetheless.

The fog may lie heavy along the coast, but drive inland and it evaporates almost as you go. For seekers of California's far-famed sunshine and warmth, arrival at the Village can be a dream come true.

Many a tourist hears about Carmel Valley and comes looking in vain. He drives past Carmel to the south, sees the marked turn-off from Highway 1 into the Valley, sees the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center and the Middle School standing at the Valley entrance – and sees nothing beyond them but hayfields.

"There's nothing there," he says to himself, and drives on in search of literally greener fields, for Carmel Valley in summer is fast becoming what we Californians euphemistically call "golden."

The dotting of homesteads begins here and just beyond is Descanso Oaks, the first cluster of houses. Seldom do the coastal fogs reach this far – at any rate, not after mid-morning.

Geographically, what is Carmel Valley? The Carmel River begins at Indian Falls, about 17 miles above the turnoff to Princes Camp, and progresses thence to the sea. The falls are accessible only by hike or horseback. The Carmel River progresses downward, joining of course with tributaries, to the lagoon just above Carmel Bay.

Tourists laugh at our term, "River," but they haven't seen it at other times of the year.

And what is there to do in Carmel Valley in summer? First of all, lie in the sun and unwind – by a poolside, perhaps, or on a private patio. When idle sunning palls – if ever – one can swim or play tennis or rent a mount, spirited or docile, and explore a trail while awakening a long-unused set of muscles. If a post-exercise sauna bath seems called for, one is available.

Dining in the Valley ranges all the way from the al fresco hamburger and coffee to the elegance of gourmet tradition complete with mood music and fine wine.

Live musical theatre and classic old movies offer after-dark diversion on weekends. A few establishments keep late enough hours for even a city-dwelling tourist to fill out his day with a sample of night life.

For those who seek to leave the bright lights behind, there are secluded spots in the Valley where night-time activity means only enormous chunks of quiet.

Active or lazy, gregarious or away-from-it-all, Carmel Valley can provide a perfect vacation for almost anyone.

BERNADELLI SQUARE ISN'T SQUARE AT ALL

It is difficult for the passer-by to grasp all that this garden Valley posesses.

He heads up Carmel Valley Road not at all sure that there is anything beyond Carmel Rancho Shopping Center and that, at the foot of the golden Santa Lucia Mountains (which might also be considered a "golden gate") there rests not a populated sanctuary at all, but only a story-book fantasy from the pages of a Steinbeck.

But this is the way he is. He is a strange creature always looking for the scenery, but unaware that he is a part of it.

But this plight also belongs to some residents of the Valley who hardly take the time to set their sights on the pleasures and differences that it offers. They are the first, of course, to pledge themselves to the preservation of the green-slopeing hills, and the golden-grassed mountains. And they will too do all that is in their power to contribute to this community. And yet, although they can see the forests and the trees, they have a difficult time seeing the forest for the trees — or however it goes.

There rests in the quiet Village area a community of creative, free-thinking and sometimes conservative persons, an unusual pot-pourri of individuals and creative studios. From the road it looks as if it really doesn't belong there, and needs to be destroyed by an Urban-Renewal project. Even when one is a part of the "place", he can't help but feel that it is really a playground, "the perfect den for a children's game of hide-and-go-seek."

But it is different. And it is not all that people think it is.

First, Bernadelli Square is not that entire mass of buildings associated with the Village Center. Rather, it is that small group of studios and shops behind the Village Center.

It is difficult to pin-point. It doesn't belong and yet without it an important part of Carmel Valley creativity would also vanish. It is out of place, and yet there is no other place for it. It is strange and yet it really isn't. It is the place to be for creativity.

"THE AARDVARK" (#20), owned by Del Neel, Don Squire and Bill Samuel had their first show in February, 1969, but have been a part of the Bernadelli-scene since September, 1968. Specializing in art supplies, the Aardvark's gallery shows the works of artists with national and international reputations who reside on the Peninsula, but seldom show locally.

The owners of the Aardvark have long felt the need for this type of gallery, and it wasn't too awfully long ago that it was the only art-supply shop in the Valley. Squire and Neel are the coach and manager of the Cypress Swim Club, a non-profit youth activity voluntarily devoting as much as 20 hours a week to further the sport of synchronized swimming. Samuel is a former member of the Stanford staff aboard the research vessel, the Te Vega, where he served as an instructor of marine biology.

The "GOLD SMITH", owned by Christopher Shepherd is relatively new to Bernadelli, having moved in on March 1. Satisfying a need to create and giving the opportunity to get people to express themselves through what they wear, the "Gold Smith" is adept at the art of custom-made jewelry and jewelry redesigning.

Christopher Shepherd feels that, "As an art form, I feel it is necessary that people break away from stores that sell mass-produced articles that can not be considered art by any stretch of the imagination. I use no mass-production methods with the result that each is unique. No two people are identical, so no two pieces of jewelry should be."

Ruth Valpey's "BALCONY BOTIQUE" entered its second year of business last month, moving from the nearby Encounter Coffee House. Specializing in original handcraft clothing and jewelry and most especially original designs by Ruth Valpey, the most interesting aspect of owning such a studio is "meeting people and talking with the many people who browse through the "Balcony".

"On the other hand the most irritating aspect of owning such a shop is people stealing designs," she continued.

Mrs. Valpey, mother of 3, has worked with the Tularcitos PTA, a former Vice-President of the Womens' International League for Peace and Freedom, will soon become a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and has recently acquired "a very talented partner", Mrs. Patti Jameson, who will soon manage the shop full-time.

The "DAISY DOG" has been at Bernadelli Square for six and one-half months and is owned by Dinny Smith. Dinny deals in dog grooming and finds every animal an interesting experience, and was in England for a year working with dogs and grooming.

Mashuri Newell and Herbert McWillis have owned the "GOLDEN HEARTH BAKERY" for nine months and make health bread and Danish pastry as well as home-made style bread and whose goal is to endeavor to make good, healthful bread.

Steve Coyle's "OM, THE SORCERER'S APPRENTICE" deals in new and used books and is primarily in business to make money and meet interesting people.

The newest shop at Bernadelli is Lois Watson's "LOS NINOS", which sells handmade children's clothing, toys, and accessories with many embroidered items also. Lois Watson's main interest lies in children with sewing and embroidery only secondary to this main interest. A graduate of Carmel High in 1965 she has a B.A. in Psychology from Stanford University with an emphasis in child psychology.

Robert Riddell's "ARTITICER: GRAPHIC SUPPLIES" has been at Bernadelli since February. His nature of business concerns signs, silk-screen printing, and silk-screen supplies with classes at various places including one at Del Fino Place. His reason for going into this line of work is the lack of adequate supplies in this area and the missuse of known information regarding silk-screen in the hobby and semi-hobby field.

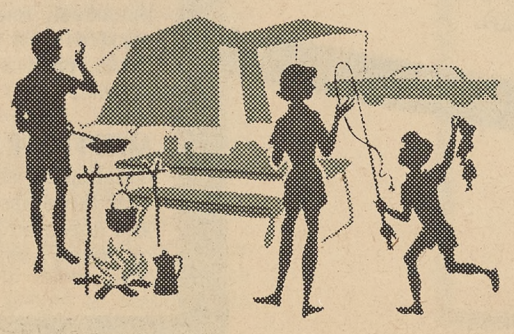
Reynold Genest's "L'ATELIER: ORIGINAL SCULPTURE" utilizes the "lost wax" process of casting and works mostly in bronze. Many of his bronze sculptures are most unique and in limited editions and involve a wide spectrum of subjects.

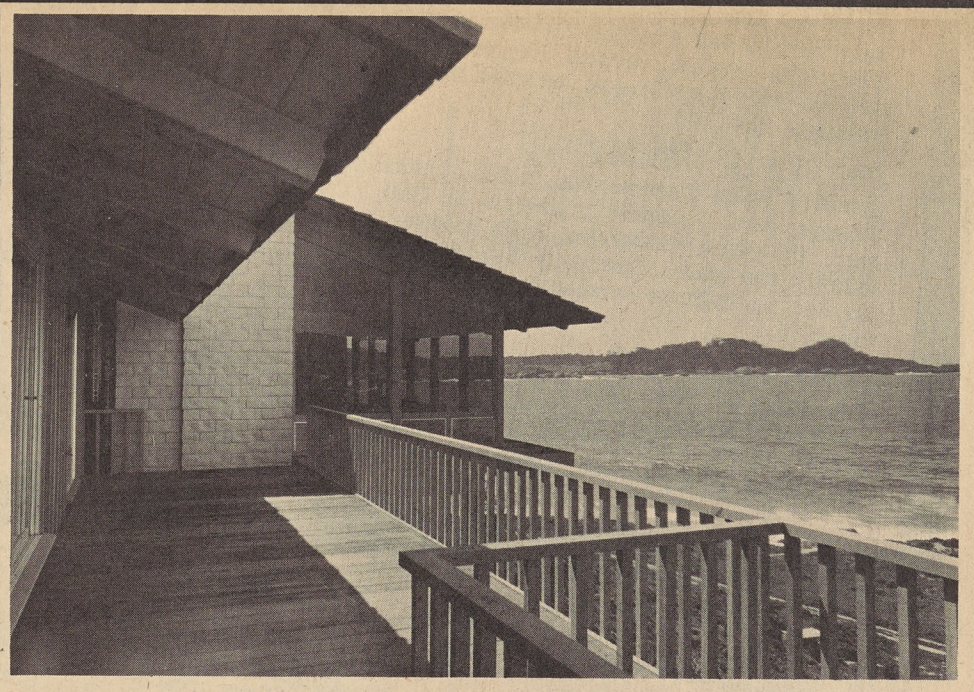
Genest has served as a trial apprentice in modern jewelry design, metalsmithing, and drafting. This summer he will hold workshop classes in beginning sculpture at the Plaza de Flores Village Art Center.

The "TIME RESEARCH INSTITUTE" at Bernadelli owned by Craig Learner is, perhaps, the newest studio in the Square. A most unusual endeavor, the newest "Institute" to make the Valley scene deals in language and statistic rectification, theatre, gallery and philosophy workshop.

"THE POSITIVE LIGHT", owned by five area attorneys (P. Ziegler, F. Silliman, R. Silver, H. Swartz, and W. Daniels) opened in March of this year and sits next to Ruth Valpey's "Balcony Boutique". Dealing in original photographs and hand crafted candles, the proprietors have ventured into this area out of hobby.

The newness, the distinctive offerings being developed by this group of artistic studios will surprise many visitors.





CARMEL: By The Sea

What would you consider a west wall to be worth if it is floor to ceiling, wall to wall, a living mural of the sea? And what is a south wall worth if its glare-proof windows frame the unending excitement of the surf on incomparable Pt. Lobos? And what is the value of this 180-degree view when it is skillfully illuminated by concealed floodlights, or enjoyed on moonlight nights when phosphorescence turns the shoreline into fairy-land. And would you think a beach practically in your front yard desirable?

If this kind of setting doesn't interest you, then don't bother to read on. But if Carmel to you MEANS the sea in all its moods as a routine part of your life, and if you like a setting of simple luxury from which to enjoy it, then also please take note of the following:

There are five bedrooms and four baths, but the house is as well suited to a couple with an interest in hobbies and guests as it is to a big family, so carefully was it planned. Three of the bedrooms are exceptionally large, one has a fireplace, one has a separate entrance, one is an ideal studio. The style is a pavillion concept of contemporary California architecture — and this means that all the courts and outdoor living areas are wind-protected and sheltered. The living room is spacious, luxurious in decor, and the dining room also takes full advantage of the view. The kitchen — ah, the kitchen! We hope the buyer is a gourmet who doesn't hire the cooking done! THE PRICE IS $160,000.

Pacific Grove's Feast of Lanterns

Pacific Grove's Feast of Lanterns will be held this year from Thursday through Sunday, July 24-27, in the quaint, Victorian waterfront town. The colorful, traditional festival, held on the last July weekend of each year, is an all-family, non-commercial folk-festival started in 1905 and has been an annual event since 1958.

Described as "a festival heralding friendship among all peoples," costumes and lanterns from many nations are seen in homes, on trees and along the waterfront. Oriental lanterns predominate at the festivities.

The oriental accent harkens back to the early Chinese fishing village which was located on Cabrillo Point, now the site of Stanford University's Hopkins Marine Laboratory. Fishing boats with colored lights and fires burning in braziers circled Pacific Grove's tiny harbor in the early days.

The climax of the event will occur as a large flotilla leaves Monterey Marine at 9 o'clock on Saturday night, July 26, each with a boat festooned with colorful oriental lanterns supplied by Pacific Grove's Feast of Lantern's Committee. Salutes are given from ship to shore.

As the boats circle the tiny harbor fireworks burst overhead, a sea serpent puffs smoke, and a large whale, under the direction of the Marine Rescue Patrol, cavorts by the tiny beach – much to the delight of adults as well as children.

Before the crowning of Queen Topaz at the Beach Pier, there is a fireworks display. It is expected that thousands will line the waterfront as hundreds sit on the beach with lighted lanterns attached to bamboo poles sticking out of the sand.

Included in the festival will be an art show, golf and tennis tournament, children's soap box derby, skin divers treasure hunt, Monterey Bay Yacht Club handicap race (July 27), organ concert, chicken barbeque, floral exhibit, pet parade, bazaar, fashion show and more. Most of the events are free to the public.

ON JULY 23RD, Hungarian-born pianist Istvan Nadas will present an all Bach recital. Mr. Nadas has won world-wide critical acclaim and is a favorite of Festival audiences.

WELL-KNOWN flutist Louise di Tullio will be featured along with soprano Marie Gibson at a recital on Saturday, July 19th and again on Saturday, July 26th at 11:00 in All Saints Episcopal Church Parish Hall.

THE FABULOUS BACH FESTIVAL

BY CHARLES C. SCHOMBS

This year, as in the 32 years past, Carmel will come alive with the symphonic choralities of Johann Sebastian Bach as one of the world's great music festivals begins.

In 1932, Miss Dene Denny and her friend, Hazel Watrous, who later formed the Denny-Watrous concert management, brought the Neah-Kah-Nie String Quartet to Carmel, with Michael Penha as cellist and director. The first "Summer Music Festival" presented the Quartet in a series of concerts and soon Penha was persuaded to conduct an amateur orchestra which was made part of the festival.

The summer concerts were a phenomenal success, undoubtedly due to the fact that the Neah-Kah-Nie quartet itself formed the nucleus of the orchestra.

Rehearsals were held in the Denny-Watrous gallery on Dolores Street where Dene Denny worked with a handful of singers in a Bach chorus as well as instrumentalists.

On July 18, 1935, Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous launched the Carmel Bach Festival, with the American composer and pianist Ernst Bacon as conductor. Since that summer, with the exception of three war years, it has become an annual event.

The first festival lasted for four days, with the historic Carmel Mission, built in 1771, only 21 years after the death of Bach, as the setting of the final concert.

Then, as now, the concerts were held in the small but beautiful Sunset School Auditorium with its magnificent Gothic arches soaring into space, one echoing the other like parts of a fugue.

Here began one of the great traditions of the festival, where Heralding Trombones, even as in the days of Bach, sound each evening across the courtyard from the upper windows of the tower. In the beginning, it was a brass choir made up of grocer Chandler Stewart and his three sons, Gordon, Donald and Alan. Aided by the gathering dust, and sometimes fog, it is an easy task to imagine oneself back in the Germany of Bach's time when brass choirs heralded from towers the opening of important civic festivals.

The second festival carried on in every way the tradition of the first. Ralph Lidsley joined the festival and has been an integral part ever since. As soloist, accompanist and the "continuo", the great B Minor Mass was performed for the first time. Alfred Frankenstein, critic and festival lecturer, suggested, during the early years, that the rigid Bach ritual be relaxed to include other composers of the Baroque period.

After the death of maestro Usigli in 1955, the summer of 1956 saw the festival enter its present stage of world-wide fame under the brilliant direction of Sandor Salgo, Professor of Music at Stanford University.

The festival operates under a board of 21 directors, several of whom have been closely associated with the festival since its earliest years. A festival committee of over 50 lends valuable assistance in a host of related activities such as hospitality for participants, transportation, housing, wardrobe details, etc.

The hand-picked orchestra comes from all over the country, drawn by the prestige of participation in this widely known festival, devotion to the performance of music of the Baroque period and respect for the conductor and his insistence upon the highest degrees of quality performance. Soloists and chorale members too come for the same reasons. Most participants are in residence in Carmel for three weeks including intensive rehearsal schedules and then the performance. The chorus is comprised of top vocal talent from the immediate and surrounding area.

Highlighting this year's festival, which will run from July 18th to the 27th will be "The Fairy Queen" by Purcell who is most probably best known for his "Trumpet Voluntary in D"; and Johann Sebastian Bach's "The Passion According to St. Matthew".

Once again comes the 200 year old music of Johann Sebastian Bach, the man whom many regard as the world's greatest composer, played in keeping with the historic tradition of his own time.

Cannery Row Is Different

Cannery Row is a unique corner of Monterey, seven blocks along the coast, with an atmosphere all its own.

Made famous by John Steinbeck's novel in 1945, at that time it was a solid wall of 16 sardine canneries and 14 reduction plants.

But for some mysterious reason the sardines faded away from Monterey Bay and by 1947 most of the canneries closed down. Today there is but one.

But in the meantime, and especially today, the canneries have been replaced, many in the same old canneries, with a host of specialty shops of all kinds, art galleries and restaurants. But many of the historic buildings remain.

A visit to Cannery Row is a must to everyone who comes to the Monterey Peninsula.

Cypress swimmers win gold medal

In one of the tightest competitions of the season, Bonnie Banker and Susie Selfridge of the Cypress Swim Club won first place in the duet division of the 1969 Jr. Pacific AAU Synchronized Swimming Championships at the Santa Clara International Swim Center this past weekend.

In preliminary routine competition, the Cypress duet was tied with Cynthia Anderson and Sunny Horstmeyer of the San Francisco Merionettes, but the figures competition broke the tie, giving the Banker-Selfridge combination a narrow lead of .672 going into the finals.

The local girls increased that lead in the final routine competition to defeat the Merionettes by 1.573 points, a full 5.700 points ahead of the third place duet, also from the Merionettes' team.

San Francisco Merionette Joan Lang handily won both the solo and the figures competiton, while the gold medals in the team division went to the Santa Clara Aquamaids.

In solos, Bonnie Banker placed 11th and Susie Selfridge 12th. Another Cypress entry, Kim Pilkenton, took 22nd place in solos, then paired with Lynnda Zarp to place 13th in duets. In figures competition, with 102 entries, Selfridge placed 8th and Banker 13th.

Next competition for the Cypress mermaids will be on July 12 and 13 when the Cypress Swim Club in cooperation with the Monterey Recreation Department, will host the 1969 Sr. Pacific AAU Championships at Monterey Peninsula College Pool.

FAIR CALAFIA — Zoreva Snow will carry double duties at the Monterey County Fair, scheduled Aug. 6 through 10. She will decorate the Fairgrounds in keeping with this year's theme of early California history. One of her first assignments was to design the fair posters, created in a diamond shape in colors of metallic gold on white. Her second assignment will be to assume the role of Queen Calafia, one of six women who will be hired to be on duty at this year's fair. The fair is still looking for the other five. Candidates must be a minimum six feet tall in stocking feet to qualify as queen of the legendary Amazon race thought to have once inhabited the "Island of California."

Monterey Morgan Horse Show Art Exhibit

A special art display focusing on the horse as subject matter will be an added attraction of the Golden West National Morgan Horse Show at the Monterey Fairgrounds.

The three-day exhibit, July 4, 5, and 6, will be in the Fine Arts Building at the Fairgrounds, and will be open during all horse show performances. The public is cordially invited to attend at no charge. The hours on July 4 and 5 are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and on July 6, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Featured in the exhibit will be horse paintings, Western scenes, marines, figure studies and still-lifes by D. Logan Hill of Carmel and Orris Moe of Mountain View. The works of these two California artists are popular in the collections of many Western art collectors. Widely recognized as skilled craftsmen, Hill and Moe have devoted many years to the study of horses as well as skies, plains, mountains and seashore.

Orris Moe, who came to California from Montana in 1954, is the newly appointed director of the Triton Museum of Art, Santa Clara.

A painting of his was used for the cover of the January 1969 issue of Western Horseman, one of the largest national horse magazines. Dale Hill, who has a gallery, is noted for his Indian painting, trompe l'oeil paintings of antique silver and cut glass and portraits of many famous actors and actresses, such as Charles Laughton, Merle Oberon and Clark Gable.

Also on display will be paintings by Jeanne Mellin Herrick, nationally acclaimed artist of horses, particularly Morgans, and author of The Morgan Horse, and Richard Stone Reeves.

Art Exhibit for Monterey Jazz Festival

The annual jazz art exhibit held in conjunction with the Monterey Jazz Festival, September 19, 20, 21, was announced today by Jimmy Lyons, Festival General Manager. Work may be in any medium and any subject matter.

Cash prizes will be awarded for painting and sculpture in the juried exhibit to be held on the Monterey County Fairgounds during the three days of the 12th Annual Monterey Jazz Festival. For painting and sculpture, first, second and third prizes will be awarded — first, $100; second, $75; third, $50.

Chairman of the exhibit is Stephen Brown, prominent Monterey Peninsula artist. Juror will be Hayward King, Director of Richmond Art Center, Richmond, California.

Many of the works exhibited will be for sale, according to Brown.

Entry forms may be obtained by writing to the Monterey Jazz Festival, P.O. Box "Jazz", Monterey, phone 373-2961.

There is a $3.00 entry fee. All entries are to be shipped at the artists' expense and must be received at Festival headquarters, on the Monterey County Fairgrounds, no later than 4:00 p.m., September 17.

BY MRS. B.C. FORRESTER

Hundreds, no thousands of years ago, when Lycurgus was ruler in Sparta, he conducted an experiment in communal cooking and eating. All citizens were required to eat the same food at a common table, whether the citizen was rich or poor. The kind of food was prescribed by law and was known as "Black Broth". No recipe for this has come down to us, but various comments made by those who ate it are enlightening.

Municipal kitchens and dining rooms were built by the authorities, and at the beginning of each month each citizen brought a certain quantity of flour and of wine. (Lycurgus never got his austerity program to extend to wine), with the flour and wine the citizen brought five pounds of cheese, 2-1/2 pounds of figs and a little money for the purchase of meat. Because of this contribution, the citizen could eat at the common table. Furthermore it was his duty to share the common meal. It was against the law to eat at home. At the community dining room observers noted those who were absent and the absentees were publicly denounced as civic enemies.

Fifteen persons sat at each table. Orators pronounced political dissertations during the meal, inveighing against over indulgence, lauding deprivation. Children were not exempt from these repasts and as soon as they were old enough they too ate the "Black Broth". This was probably a mixture of vegetables and meat, and the name indicates what the Spartans probably thought of the mixture. They stood for totalitarian feeding just so long, then turned on Lycurgus, stoned him out of the city and went home to dinner. This is a historic example of the fact that community feeding forced upon a people results in (a) a revolt, or (b) the Black Market. In Sparta food was again prepared and eaten at home. Which brings us to: Soups, Broths, and Chowders, and how to make them.

ONION SOUP FOR TWO

1 large Spanish onion — 1/4 pound butter
1 tbsp French mustard — 1 can Beef consomme
Grated Parmesan Cheese — 2 slices Sour French Bread

Saute onion (minced in butter until golden, not brown. Add mustard and cook for a minute or two. Dilute consomme, add to onion, simmer for 10 minutes. Place in refrigerator overnight, to allow flavor to grow. Reheat, sprinkle bread with grated cheese, place under broiler until lightly toasted. Place a slice of toast on top of each plate of soup.

MUSHROOM SOUP

1 pound mushrooms — 4 sprigs parsley
1/4 cup butter — 1 whole clove
1 med. size onion (chopped) — salt and pepper
1/2 tbsp flour — dash of cayenne, dash of mace
6 cups milk — 1/2 cup heavy cream
1 bay leaf — 2 egg yolks, well beaten

Peel mushrooms, cut off tough ends of stems, put through food chopper. Melt butter in top of double boiler, add onion and mushrooms. Remove double boiler top and place on direct heat. Cook for 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Sprinkle in flour and blend thoroughly. Scald milk in separate pot with bay leaf, parsley and clove. Strain. Stir scalded milk into mushroom mixture and cook over direct heat, stirring constantly until mixture boils and thickens. Season with salt, pepper, cayenne and mace. Place upper part of boiler over boiling water again and simmer for 20 minutes. Stir occasionally. Turn into fine wire seive and rub through into fresh saucepan. Return to stove and taste for seasoning. Scald cream and stir in beaten egg yolks. Combine mixtures and stir well. Reheat but do not boil again.

LOBSTER BISQUE

1 tbsp butter — 2 tbsp butter
1/4 cup finely chopped onion — 1-1/2 tsp salt
3 cups milk — dash monosodium glutamate (optional)
1 cup cooked lobster meat, cut up — 1/4 tsp pepper
10 oz. can mushroom soup — 1 tbsp flour
1/2 cup light cream — 1/4 cup cold water

Melt 1 tbsp butter in large saucepan. Add onion, cook gently until onion tender, not brown. Add milk, lobster, mushroom soup, cream, 2 tbsp butter, monosodium glutamate, salt and pepper. Stir to blend and heat gently to boiling point. Mix 1 tbsp flour and 1/4 cup cold water until smooth, then add to hot mixture gradually stirring constantly. Cook gently until slightly thickened. Serve immediately. Serves six.

All kinds of celebrities at Pebble Beach Tennis Festival

Sharing the spotlight in the Celebrity Tennis Festival (July 4-5-6) at Pebble Beach will be non-playing headliner Barbara Kelley, last season's smash on ABC-TV.

Barbara, the Santa Cruz girl who made it big on "Hurdy Gurdy," was discovered at the Warehouse on Monterey's Cannery Row. She comes home to sing with her old group, Gary Ryan & Trio, for Pebble's July 5 dinner dance at the Beach & Tennis Club.

The 300 or so players and guests invited to the party have been informed that "evening wear is optional, but a bathing suit is suggested."

After dinner and the Kelly show, the party moves poolside for dancing and swimming.

Music by the Hot Coffee, portable heaters and a large bonfire on the beach are calculated to take the chill out of the evening. Festivities begin in a casino atmosphere, with free chips provided for 21, craps and roulette. Winners have their choice of dinner wines on the house.

Saturday evening's bash is the stellar social attraction in a long weekend of tennis and parties.

Thursday night, players and friends will attend a cocktail dance hosted by Aime Michaud, president of Del Monte Properties Company, at Macomber House overlooking the golf course and Carmel Bay.

Friday's post-game activities include the annual fireworks and steak barbeque at the Beach & Tennis Club, with dancing on Stillwater Cove's pier.

This year's tournament offers mixed doubles matches for the first time. Among the ladies will be Vera-Ellen and Mrs. Edgar Bergen. Dinah Shore will play "if she's back from London in time," according to Corney Jackson, President of the Los Angeles Tennis Club and honorary festival chairman.

Newcomers from the sound stages, Clint Eastwood, Dick Sargent, and Jack Ging, join writers Herb Caen, Art Hoppe, Ralph Storey, and syndicated cartoonist Lee Holley of "Ponytail" fame.

Last year's men's winners, Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. and Jim Brown, are coming back to defend their laurels, as are Macdonald Carey, Cornel Wilde, and Fernando Roca.

AMONG THE PLAYERS in the Pebble Beach July 4-5-6 Celebrity Tennis Festival is Lee Holley, noted cartoonist of "Ponytail" fame and former associate of Hank Ketcham. Holley created this cartoon for the Festival program.

Chamber to hear reports on Carmel Valley Road problems

Reports on improvements planned for Carmel Valley Road will be heard at this month's meeting of the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce.

It meets Thursday of this week at the Robles del Rio Lodge, starting at noon.

The county road department will tell about the current status of the detour on Carmel Valley Road, now almost six months old, and what has happened to the plan to install flashing yellow lights near Country Club Drive, promised two months ago.

Chamber members who attend will also hear about other plans by the organization, including those relating to the beautification of the Village area.

Three school teachers resign

Three teachers in the Carmel school district have resigned, including one who has taught at Tularcitos School.

They are Edwina Marino, a 5th grade teacher at Tularcitos; Pat Mewhinney, a high school English teacher; and Beatrice Picard, a Middle School English teacher.

Catherine Westmoreland, who had resigned, withdrew her resignation and was reemployed as a mathematics and reading teacher at Tularcitos.

Action on these and other matters was taken at last week's meeting of the Carmel Unified School District.

The board adopted a tentative budget of $3,697,220 for the new fiscal year, which includes a recently granted cost-of-living raise of $100,000 to the staff. The final budget will be presented on July 9, which administrators indicated would be even higher because of state requirements and adopted on August 6.

"VIEW", an oil by Ellwood Graham, 33-1/2 x 48 inches. First award, National All Mediums Show, judged by Lloyd Goodrich, director, Whitney Museum of American Art in New York City.

Graham Exhibit during July at Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art

Exhibiting at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art during the month of July will be Ellwood Graham, well-known area artist. Graham was awarded this one-man show as one of the winners of last year's sixth annual Monterey County Painting Competitive, a juried show sponsored by the Museum Association every year.

Trained at the St. Louis School of Fine Arts, where he received a scholarship, his dedication and craftsmanship have won him a wide following, not only locally, but across the country. His works are included in the permanent collections of many major American museums including the Whitney in New York, the Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, San Francisco and De Young, and locally the Monterey Peninsula and Carmel museums.

He is also represented at the Chicago and San Francisco Art Institutes, and the University museums of New Mexico and Long Island's Adelphi. His work also hangs at the Brazilian Embassy in Washington, D.C. Among the many private collectors of Graham canvasses are Henry Miller, Burgess Meredith, Paulette Goddard, Charles Feldman and the late John Steinbeck and Robinson Jeffers. The latter two were both close personal friends and both had a profound influence on his career.

Active for many years on the local art scene, Graham is currently president of the Carmel Art Association. He has had 37 one-man shows throughout the United States and Mexico and has won 55 awards in national and regional competitions.

The Monterey Peninsula Museum is doubly pleased to be presenting Mr. Graham's show during July. Not only with his colorful collection, especially painted for this exhibit, be an exciting addition to the Artists Studio Open House when the Museum will be included for the first time on this Studio Tour which it sponsors, but it is also particularly timely that these works will be on display during the presentation of Carmel's annual Bach Festival, for the New York critics, who usually compare contemporary painters with master artists of the past, reviewed his first one-man show there with the praise, "He paints like Bach."

The usual Preview-Reception for the exhibiting artist will not be held this month. Instead, Mr. Graham will be at the Museum to greet the Studio Tour-goers on July 12th from 11 to 5. The Studio Tour Tea will be held this year at the Museum from 3 to 5, and Mrs. Graham has been asked to share her husband's honors that day by presiding at the Tea Table.

The exhibition will be open to the public from July 2 through 30. Gallery hours are from 11-5 weekdays and 2-5 on Saturdays.

The Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art is located on Lincoln Street, between Ocean and 7th, in Carmel.

Can we wave the Flag too much?

Is it possible to wave the flag too much? Provided, of course, that you wave it with integrity? Is it possible to study Lincoln or Shakespeare too much? Is it possible to read the Bible too much? ☆ The great, the good, the true, are inexhaustible for inspiration, example and strength. I believe that we are not waving our flag enough, not nearly enough ☆ It seems to me that we are developing a tendency to be timid or even apologetic about waving the stars and stripes. Walk up and down the streets on July 4th and count the flags. It is our nation's birthday, a sacred day in world history, the most important day of America. Why isn't the flag flying on every rooftop and from every home and building? This complacent attitude is strong evidence of cancerous patriotic decay. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It is the spirit of our undying devotion to our country. It stands for the best that is in us . . . for loyalty, character, and faith in democracy ☆ Isn't our flag a synonym of the United States of America? Does it not represent man's greatest, noblest, most sublime dream? Is it not the zenith of achievement, the goal to which generations have aspired? ☆ Ladies and gentlemen, I believe it is time for us . . . for the mad, rushing Twentieth Century American . . . to stop for a moment and think. Let us arrest our near reverential admiration of material success and return to the spiritual and ethical values. Let us imbue and rekindle in ourselves and our children the so-called old-fashioned way of patriotism, a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our country was founded ☆ Should not every home own and proudly display the colors on holidays and other such occasions? Isn't the flag Patrick Henry, Jefferson, Franklin, Washington, Nathan Hale, Gettysburg and Valley Forge, Paul Revere, Jackson and other great men and women who have given us our heritage? When you look at the flag can't you see the Alamo, Corregidor, Pearl Harbor, The Monitor, The Merrimac, Wake Island, and Korea? Lest we forget, isn't the flag Flanders Field, Bataan, Iwo Jima, Normandy, Babe Ruth and Davy Crockett? The great events of our past and present are wrapped up in our flag ☆ It is a symbol of this blessed nation, a giant in industry, education and commerce. Millions of fertile square miles, wheatlands, coal mines, steel plants. Our greatest republic, the chosen infant destined to be man's last and remaining hope for suffering humanity, a shining beacon of light, noble and glorious, the haven for the oppressed and persecuted and truly God's gift to mankind ☆

That is what the flag means to me. Can we wave it too much? I don't think so.

1969 Carmel Valley Little League All-Stars announced

BY MARY THYSTRUP

Saturday marked the near end of the Little League season. Little League president, George Palmer, presented pins to each graduating 12-year-old. He then called each team manager on to the field to receive the league pins for his players.

The big moment finally arrived. Out of 52 players, according to the Little League ruling, only fourteen 11 and 12 year olds can be chosen for the All-Star team. The boys are voted in by the managers and are picked not only for their playing ability, but for their sportsmanship and general demeanor.

We take price in announcing the following all-stars:
VOLUNTEERS: Bob Egli, Sergio Villarreal.
GIANTS: Mike Busick, Jim Giodano, Kim Kvenild.
LIONS: David Morris, Jeff Hall, Mark Siino, Ed Canadas.
TIGERS: Jim Reimer, Dorne Colburn, Greg Fries, Richard Steiny, and Mark Lyons.

Managing the all-stars this year will be Bill Conlan, (manager of the Tigers), and coaching, Lin Egli (manager of the Giants).

The first All-Star game is scheduled for Friday, July 18 at 6:00 p.m. to be played at Metz Field in Seaside.

We urge your attendance to give our boys the moral encouragement and support they deserve.

Two Valley citizens pass away

On Saturday the Valley Fire Department was called to the home of John Foppiano of Lower Circle who had become unconscious. He was given inhalation and taken to the Community Hospital. He died the next day.

At 9:15 the Carmel crew answered a call (while covering for the Valley Department) at Lou's Casa Carmela where Doug Thompson of 411 Rogers Ave., Watsonville, was having difficulty breathing. After being given first aid he was taken to the Community Hospital.

On Sunday the Valley Fire Department was called to the home of J. Jay Jaffe of 330 El Caminito. Suffering from a heart attach, Mr. Jaffe was rushed to the Monterey Community Hospital following an attempt at resuscitation. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the Community Hospital.

Upper Valley Advisory Committee meets Friday

The Upper Valley Advisory Committee will meet Friday at the Community Center on Ford Road at 8:00 a.m. to consider a use permit for a sign applied for by the Los Tulares Land Co.; and a variance applied for by Robert McIntyre of La Rancheria for a reduction of side yard set-back requirements.

If You've

never tried keeping your summer cologne or freshening lotion in the refrigerator you haven't really enjoyed them.

Elizabeth Arden's BLUE GRASS, Faberge's STRAW HAT, Jean Nate's FRICTION COLOGNE, Colonia's 4711 – any of them, deliciously cool, will give you a wonderful pick-up in the summer heat.

Try cotton pads moistened with Elizabeth Arden's VELVA SMOOTH straight from the refrigerator for eye pads when you are sunning – or afterward.

So – move the fruit juice over a bit closer to the soft drinks and make room – you will be cooler and fresher.

Lin Egli emphasizes Little League team play

BY MARY THYSTRUP

Linden Egli has the rare distinction of being a natural and talented athlete. Had fate decreed, he well may have been a professional in any sport he would have chosen.

Lin was born on September 13, 1933 in Oakland, and reared there. He graduated from St. Joseph's High School in Alameda. While at St. Joseph's, he excelled in track, baseball and basketball.

In 1952, he was voted the most outstanding basketball player of the year. His name was the second to be engraved on the Rod McDonald Memorial Trophy. At the presentation he was highly praised, not only for being the hero of his team's crucial victory, but also for his gentlemanly demeanor and true sportsmanship.

Upon graduation, he was much sought after and received offers to play for UC, USF and Santa Clara. He declined the offers because of his thoughts of entering the priesthood.

While attending USF, he suffered the loss of a very close friend and consequently put off making a decision. Two years lapsed and he felt it was too late to pursue any athletic ambition. In 1954, he joined the Air Force where he served four years at a radar facility in Lockport, New York.

After his enlistment in the service, he concluded a year's engagement with Ann Parsons by joining with her in marriage. Three years later they had acquired two sons, John, now 13 and Robert, 11.

After the service Lin accepted a position with Moore-Clark, a wholesale distributor, and there remained.

He and his family moved to Carmel Valley in 1960. Three years later, they found and bought their own home on Laurel Drive where they now reside.

On March 28, 1965, Elizabeth Ann arrived on the scene to the delight of her family and immediately became the center of attraction.

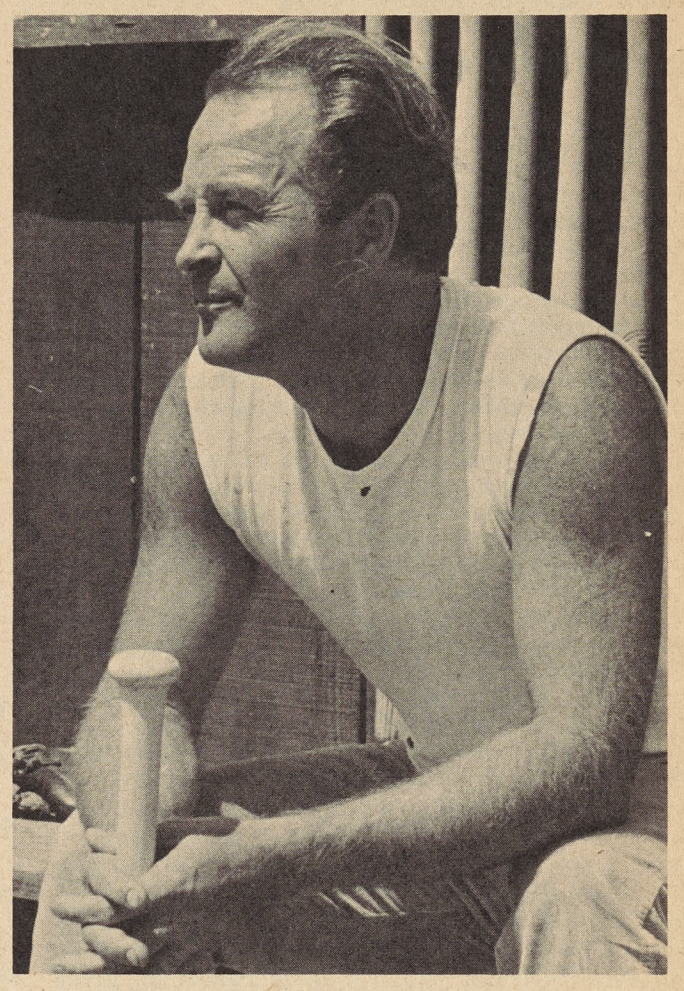
Lin's introduction to Little League was made by Tom Waters in 1963 when he asked for help in coaching the Volunteers team. Lin's deep love of sports made him easy prey and he readily agreed. By the middle of the season, he was managing the team. The following year he sat out as the game schedule conflicted with his job.

In 1965, when his oldest son John, became a Little Leaguer, he decided to give it another try, so he helped Fred Alm coach the C.V. Giants. The next year he became manager again with Rod Fleming coaching. In 1969, upon Ron's leave, Bill Stowers stepped in to become Lin's right-hand-man.

Lin feels all his boys are pretty great kids and require little reprimanding. The major problem, if you want to consider it as such, is correcting and preventing errors, and "that's what I'm there for.If a boy learns or overcomes just one thing all year, it makes my job worthwhile."

"There is a tendency sometimes for them to depend on one or two exceptional ball players instead of thinking of the team as a whole," he says. "My primary objective is teaching nine players to think, play and work together as a team. This in turn, develops their self confidence and sportsmanship."

Lin feels it is very important for parents to encourage and show interest in their kid's progress. He would like to see better attendance at the games and meetings. "The better the communication between parent and managers, the more beneficial it becomes to all involved."



LINDEN EGLI – Manager, C.V. Giants

"Overall," he said, "this is one of the best years we've ever had. The league is well balanced. All the teams have equal talent and ability. The kids also seem to have a greater appreciation for each other. They might tease and give each other a bad time during the games, but afterwards, they'll compliment each other on playing well, win or lose. There is no evidence of hard feelings. It's satisfying to see this sportsmanship."

Lin's advice to all sports-minded kids is to try them all. As he put it, "Broaden your horizons and open all the doors you can. There are great things to be had and a lot of interested people out there willing to help and offer opportunities. The key is desire."

Carmel Valley architect and civic leader Robert Stanton has been elected president of the Monterey County Symphony Association.

Stanton takes over the post from James M.R. Glaser, who has guided the musical organization for the past three seasons.

City of Salinas Planning Commissioner Robert A. Gordon was elected first vice-president, and Pacific Grove businessman Steve Magyar was named to the second vice-president spot.

Other officers named as a result of the balloting include Jascha Veissi, third vice-president; Philip C. Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Howard Bucquet, recording secretary; and Mrs. Peter Becker, corresponding secretary.

All of the elected officers will serve during the 1969-70 concert season.

Live THE "GOOD LIFE" on the MONTEREY PENINSULA

The good life can be yours when you own a maintenance-free home in High Meadow or Country Club Gate. Complete exterior service and garden care are part of your purchase benefits. You will have time for all of the cultural, recreational and sports activities that are available to you when you live on the spectacular Monterey Peninsula.

HIGH MEADOW OF CARMEL is tucked away in a broad meadow of unusual beauty; secluded and quiet, yet only five minutes away from charming downtown Carmel-by-the-Sea. This planned community is for active adults... it is not a retirement home. Beautifully designed two and three bedroom residences offer all the amenities for gracious living. There are extensive communal areas, perpetual green belts, private roads and underground utilities.

COUNTRY CLUB GATE... the only single-family condominium on the peninsula... is directly across from the entrance to famous 17 Mile Drive and Del Monte Forest. As a resident of Country Club Gate, you are entitled to golfing privileges at famous Pebble Beach Golf Course. Located on a nine acre, tree studded site, the two and three bedroom homes have many custom features unique to most residences in this price category. If you plan your Country Club Gate home as a second or vacation residence, the Del Monte Lodge Hotel Department is prepared to manage the rental of your property while you are away. This will help defray your vacation home expense.

HIGH MEADOW of CARMEL from $52,800.
COUNTRY CLUB GATE from $36,000.
